ATTRACTIONS

Danang is favored and privileged by nature for having all the nature elements harmoniously blended giving the city itself a charming and unique attraction over other cities and provinces in Vietnam. Its proximity to almost all the best tourist sites in Central Vietnam and especially its location right on the World Heritage Road also makes it one of the best destinations in the country.

Bana Hills

Bana Hills are 20 km to the west of Danang. The place was established and designed by the French in early 1900s. Its altitude of more than 1000 meters above sea level privileges Bana temperate climate all year round which makes it an ideal weekend getaway site for both local people and tourists.

Hoi An ancient town

Hoi An ancient town is a World Heritage Site located in Quang Nam province reflecting a well-preserved town which has been established for more than 400 years. The town is notable for its charming blending of Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese architectures due to the settlement of many foreign businessmen here during the 17th century.

My Son Holy Land

My Son is a World Heritage Site located 70km to the south of Danang. My Son is a complex of partially ruined Hindu temples constructed between the 4th and 14th century A.D. by the kings of the Champa Kingdom. My Son is now one of the foremost Hindu temple complexes in South East Asia.

Royal city of Hue

Hue is 100 km to the north of Danang and had been the imperial capital of the Nguyen Dynasty from 19th to 20th century. The whole city is colored and sparkled with many temples and pagodas in authentic Vietnamese traditional architecture. The city is also home to the largest and best-preserved citadel in Vietnam where the royal family resided in the past. Hue is a World Heritage Site recognized by UNESCO in 1993.
