Sustainability and Community Investment

At COMO Hotels and Resorts, we act as custodians, rather than managers, of each destination. We recognise the privileges and responsibilities of being part of the community and are committed to respecting local culture, supporting the domestic economy and minimising our impact on the environment.

At COMO Metropolitan Bangkok, our Head Chef Pim Techamuanvith is committed to sourcing and celebrating the finest sustainable Thai produce, and supporting those who grow it. Using an extensive network of local, environmentally responsible suppliers, we are able to provide our kitchens with ingredients that are sustainable and deliver the best flavour: both at award-winning Thai restaurant nahm, and at glow, where guests can try our nutritionally-balanced COMO Shambhala Cuisine.

We are also proud of the support we lend to local organisations such as the Santisuk Foundation, a charity that helps disadvantaged children living in the slum communities of Bangkok. We help to provide education funds and a day-care centre that prepares these young children for primary school.
